FURTHER USE OF MODEL TARDIS

Peter Logan

If you have time - could the model Tardis have a wire passed thru' the pole it usually stands on, and thereby connected to a 12v battery. This would save a little studio time, as in order to control the light on top of the Tardis, one whole side of the model has to be detached.

Many thanks,

Chris Bailey

Dear Chris

I'm very conscious that we haven't yet given you our decision on the KINDA storyline you did for us, and you must be wondering about the silence.

The delay is partly to do with the possible introduction of another new regular character towards the end of the season; naturally we'd like to hold off making commitments on specific stories until that's settled.

My apologies for keeping you in suspense. We will let you know our decision one way or the other as soon as we can.

Yours

The following character appears in 3 episodes.

KARUNA: GOOD PART.

A girl is required to play the age of 10-12 years maximum, but actual age should be 16 years or over, and not taller than 5 feet. She comes from another planet and is able to read peoples' minds. Plays a companion to an old wise woman. Needs to have a quality of natural innocence. Has to be a good little actress to interpret peoples' emotions. No accent required - standard English. This part demands good acting experience.

BRIEF OUTLINE OF PLOT (Information in brackets NOT FOR PUBLICATION)

The DOCTOR and party arrive on the planet of DEVA LOKA. NYSSA is ordered to rest while the DOCTOR, ADRIC and TEGAN explore the planet. First they discover the Windchimes, a place of meditation used by the KINDA; then the Total Survival Suit (TSS) which activates itself escorting the DOCTOR and ADRIC (TEGAN is left dreaming at the Windchimes) to the fortified Dome of an expeditionary team. SANDERS, the leader, believes the KINDA are responsible for the disappearance of several of his men and, as a reprisal, has taken two KINDA hostages. TODD, the science officer, argues the KINDA's innocence, also believing them to be telepathic and more intellectual than they appear. HINDLE, the security officer, has become unhinged by events and oscillates between manic aggression and cowardly submission.

Meanwhile, TEGAN is dreaming some very strange dreams, in which she meets the evil manifestation of a MARA, whose main preoccupation is to experience life through her mind.

(SANDERS decides to search for his missing crew members leaving HINDLE in command. SANDERS meets PANNA, the wise woman of the KINDA tribe, and her young companion KARUNA. The women present him with a very unusual box.

(Back at the Dome, HINDLE has completely flipped. Fearing an imaginary attack from the KINDA, he has imprisoned the DOCTOR and TODD and ordered the Dome's self-destruct charges made ready. SANDERS returns to the DOME a changed man. With him he brings the box which he gives to HINDLE. Fearing a trap, HINDLE orders the Doctor to open it. This he does and the Dome is filled with beautiful images of life on DEVA LOKA. During the confusion, the DOCTOR and TODD escape.

Tiring of TEGAN, the MARA has now entered the mind of ARIS, a mute, KINDA male and learned the prophesy that such a male will gain voice (only certain female members of the tribe speak) and lead the KINDA tribe in a great war. This very much appeals to the evil MARA.

The DOCTOR and TODD find their way to PANNA's cave and also learn of the prophesy and PANNA's concern that it is about to be fulfilled. In a vision PANNA shows what is to come: the total destruction of the KINDA tribe through a war ARIS/MARA will declare on the Dome.

During the vision PANNA expires.

At the Dome, HINDLE now awaits a real attack, while ADRIC tries frantically to escape.

The DOCTOR collects TEGAN from the Windchimes and learns of her dream, KARUNA confirming the danger of dreaming alone at such a place as it allows evil to pass through the dreamer to DEVA LOKA. TEGAN has been the unsuspecting gateway for the MARA.

ARIS/MARA prepares an attack, having convinced the KINDA he is the fulfilment of the prophesy. The TSS comes from the Dome, but instead of a battle, TRICKSTER, the KINDA's jester, performs an amazing dance around the Suit, confusing the operator and causing it to overbalance. The Suit is opened and ADRIC is found; he had used the TSS to escape. During TRICKSTER's dance, ADRIC had accidentally fired a gun built into the Suit and wounded ARIS/MARA, who has limped away into the forest.

The DOCTOR rushes into the Dome and with TODD's help prevents HINDLE setting off his explosives. He then goes after ARIS/MARA trapping him in a ring of mirrors, causing the MARA to leave ARIS and return to his own world.

At TODD's insistence, plans to colonise the planet are dropped.
(The KINDA are to be left in peace.)

David Platt, Programme Acquisitions

Further to our conversation of some weeks ago, I confirm that Richard Todd will be guest starring in the Doctor Who story 'Kinda' to be transmitted Mondays and Wednesdays, weeks 5 and 6, 1982 and I feel sure there is mileage in a Richard Todd feature film season around about this time. I am sure we could both benefit from this.

DOCTOR WHO: 'KINDA' BY CHRISTOPHER BAILEY (50/LDL D205T)

Dear Eric,

Here's the additional stuff.

I put the argument between TEGAN and ADRIC in 14(b) where we agreed, but I've a feeling that we now, altogether, may have more than 3 minutes. I may be wrong. If there is though, then I suggest cut the argument: running straight from them sitting in the silence to the Doctor returning.

18(a) I've done all I can, given TEGAN, ADRIC, THE DOCTOR, and the backs of a couple of mirrors. We're still left with the problem that the MANA pages weren't. I do hope the MANA shots can be improved.

Any changes feel free to make them.

Where I've not taken up your original suggestions, it's not wilfulness on my part, there's always a reason.

ie I think we must assume ADRIC has been told about the MANA etc by TEGAN. To have them coming in at the top of 14(a) finishing off that conversation seems to dissipate the tension around the matter at hand - ie Will Hinde blow the Dome up?

Anyway, I hope the enclosed fits the bill.

Chris.

Christopher Bailey

Dear Chris

I have now read the extra scenes you've delivered and on the whole, I think they work well.

The couple of reservations occur in 4/14(b) and 18a.

I really feel we must have some explanation concerning the power of the box. It has had an enormous effect on Saunders, Hindle and the Dome, yet the audience never learns why. I think not to give any reason is a little bit of a cheat. I would suggest a speech to cover the above would be inserted after the Doc's penultimate speech, first column page 3.

Scene 18a, I feel the reaction to the snake should come from Tegan. She has experienced the Mara. Seeing it as an enormous snake should really cause a very strong reaction from her.

I'll be in touch about your scene breakdown in a day or two.

Hope to hear from you soon,

Best wishes

Dear Peter,

It is with some dismay that, whilst winding up my affairs, I find that I have not actually written to thank you for your massive contribution to 'Kinda'.

Once again a very big thank you for the truly magnificent music that you composed for the programme. I have never, on any of the other 'Dr. Whos' that I have done, found the music coming so close to my own perception of the story, and I feel that it is your efforts in this area that have made an otherwise esoteric piece an immensely popular and critical success.

I hope most sincerely that we will work together again before too long.

Best wishes,
